

Vladimir Lepskiy

Vladimir Lepskiy is Head of the “Center of Interdisciplinary Researches of Reflexive Processes and Control of Institute of Philosophy of the Russian Academy of Sciences”, Main Research Fellow, Institute of Philosophy, RAS. Education: Radiotechnical Faculty, National Research University “Moscow Power Engineering Institute”. Faculty of Mathematics and Mechanics, Moscow Lomonosov State University.

Degree: D.Sc. in Psychology. Doctor of Science Dissertation: “Subject-oriented Concept of the Computerization of Control Activity”, Moscow Lomonosov State University, 2000.

Fields of research: Interdisciplinary Studies of the Reflexive Processes and Control; Conceptual Foundations of the Postnonclassical Sciences of Control and Development; Third-order Cybernetics - Cybernetics of self-developing polysubject Environments; Subject-oriented Approach to the Organization of Control and Innovative Activities; Informational and Psychological Security.

He participates in the editorial boards of scientific journals: Editor-in-chief, Russian scientific journal “Reflexive processes and control”. Member of editorial boards of the Russian scientific journals: “Control Sciences”, “Information Wars”, “Socio Time”, “Real Economy”.

Monographs:

V. Lepskiy Evolution of concepts about control (methodological and philosophical analysis.- M.: “Kogito Center” Publishing House, 2015. – 107 p. (in Russian);

V. Lepskiy. Reflexive and Active Environments of Innovative Development. - M.: “Kogito Center” Publishing House, 2010. – 280 p. (in Russian);

V. Lepskiy. Subject-oriented Approach to Innovative Development. - M.: “Kogito Center” Publishing House, 2009. - 208 p. (in Russian);

V. Lepskiy, A. Raputo Modeling and Support of the Internet Communities. - M.: Institute of Psychology, RAS, 1999. - 96 p. (in Russian);

V. Lepskiy. The Concept of Subject-oriented Computerization of Control Activity. - M.: Institute of Psychology, RAS, 1998. – 204 p. (in Russian).